DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114.

Applicant's submission filed on December 12, 2003 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-16 and 18-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Schmitz (EP 0,529,383 A2) in view of Hertrampf (U.S. 6,021,912). Schmitz discloses the claimed invention except for the sealing olive. Hertrampf teaches that it is known to provide a closure with a sealing olive (see element 4). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the closure of Schmitz with a sealing olive, as taught by Hertrampf, in order to properly align the closure on the container when being applied thereto.

Schmitz teaches a plastic closure, shown in figures 1 and 2, having a top plate at 2, a substantially cylindrical peripheral portion at 1, and a substantially cylindrical sealing strip at 3. The peripheral portion at 1 has a cylindrical bead at 4, and a screw thread at 1a. The sealing strip extends axially, as shown in figure 1, and engages the outer edge a portion of the outer wall, as shown in figure

2. The weakened annular portion is shown at 9.

4. Claim 17 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Schmitz in view of Hertrampf, as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Dai (U.S. 6,044,995). The modified closure of Schmitz discloses the claimed invention except for the tamper band. Dai teaches that it is known to provide a closure with a tamper band (see element 40). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the modified closure of Schmitz with a tamper band, as taught by Dai, in order to indicate whether the container has been previously opened.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
